

My Grandmother

My greatest regret is loss in my dear grandmother whom I love so much. When I was a kid, I loved going to my grandmother's house. I remember Grandma's fondness for cooking delicious food. The thing my grandmother made me eat was fried fish. She said that eating lots of fish would make me smart, but I was still stupid. Grandma liked to buy me toys. Grandma would always praise me for being a smart and lovely child. Every time. I would go back to my grandmother's house,

I miss grandma. But after a while, my grandmother was hospitalized because she had cancer. I could have protected my grandmother. I remember every day after I returned to school, I had to see my grandmother every day. As a kid, I played with my grandma just like when I was at home. After that, it was a painful memory for me since childhood. When my grandmother died, I was very young. But I remember when I was little, I didn't quite understand what death was like. But as a child, I thought death was something that took warm love from me. Even after a long time But still a painful memory so I should have said I love grandmother. I shouldn't have stubborn with my grandmother.
